THE BIBLE SPEAKS

Practical Teaching of the Bible

Daniel Stands By His Convictions

Lesson for May 30, 1948

"A picture is worth a thousand words—
Sourcery drinking the hemlock—
And Jesus on the cross!"

SUCH a picture we have before us in Sunday's lesson. All of us need to go to this dramatic picture in the Bible to find the meaning of that cherished statement, "The conviction that convicts."

HAVE TO DO RIGHT

WE GET the first draught of this tonic in verses 8-9, 14-15, and 17. "But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank."

He was a brave enough to take a stand for what he knew was right.

Which reminds me of the story of Henry Ward Beecher, when yet a small boy, a teacher in the school he attended asked a question which he promptly answered. The teacher appeared displeased, and told the boy to sit down. He asked several other boys the same question, and got the same answer. Finally he asked Beecher, and Beecher gave the same answer, but refused to sit down when the teacher frowned at him. Seeing that Beecher was going to defend the answer, the teacher said, "Boys, you were all correct, but only Beecher was sure enough to stand his ground. I was simply trying to teach you the lesson that you must stand by what you know is right."

DARE TO STAND ALONE

DANIEL knew that he was taking an unpopular position, but he was willing to be alone so long as he knew he was right. He knew that the consequences would take care of themselves. That is the quality of character which America needs today in her youth.

It is easy enough to be popular. If you run with the gang, but remember this—the gang is always heading downhill. Daniel stood by his convictions, and he was content. In the final windup, he was the head man.

ENDURING INVESTMENTS

DANIEL, winning his point, made every hour count toward victory. He not only obtained from strong drink, but used his superior strength to serve the kingdom in such way that his talents were sought out and brought into larger fields of opportunity.

Standing by his convictions, he had won over those who at first were disposed to poke fun at him. By superb performance, due to clear thinking and high purpose, Daniel made enduring investments that paid off in big dividends. He did not do right for reward, but because he did right, the reward was inevitable. And so it will be with every young man and woman who purposes in his or her heart to do right.

GOD'S FAVOR

I WANT you to look carefully at verse 17. "God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams."

It is impossible to account for Daniel's fortune apart from the incident of Daniel opening his window to ward Jerusalem in prayer.

God never fails those who stake their all on him. He will not—can not—let them fail. It was because of God's favor that Daniel and his companions proved themselves ten times better than the young men who defiled themselves.

"Who sides with God must always win."

Scoffers Stay On

Even those who seek at the Bible prefer to live in a culture in which the dominating ideas of the Bible have been influential.

The Bible is a very dangerous book—dangerous to all systems of greed and prejudice and oppression.

Needy Alabamians Receive $1,719,721 In April Payments

Public Welfare Commissioner Loula Dunn disclosed last week that the Welfare Department spent $1,719,721 in April on 81,657 cases of needy Alabamians. Payments averaged $21.06 or 3 cents less than the average payment during March when $1,639 persons received aid.

Although the average payment amount was down slightly April payments exceeded those of the previous month by $10,963. The decline in the average was caused by the increased number of cases receiving aid last month.

The largest amount of the total payments during April went to Alabama's aged. The Welfare Department paid out $1,242,180 to 63,652 old people for an average of $19.52, while 63,166 cases received $1,234,254 during the month of March for an average of $19.54.

Second highest in payments received were Alabama dependent children. The department paid out $342,171 to 10,340 needy children for an average payment of $33.09 in April, as compared to $339,108 paid to 10,218 children during March, an average of $33.19.

Payments amounting to $35,334 were to 5,881 of the state's handicapped persons, giving an average payment of $16.21 during last month as compared to $16.19 during March.

Miss Dunn said that her department received 3,256 applications for assistance during April as compared to 3,203 the previous month. She said that 2,762 cases were approved for assistance last month but that no payments were made because of inadequate funds.

3,300 Patients Receive Treatment In State Clinics

Dr. D. G. Gill, State Health Officer, disclosed last week that, during the past four years, more than 3,300 Alabamians have undergone treatment for cancer in the various cancer clinics over the state.

The diagnostic and treatment clinics were made possible by a 1943 legislative appropriation, designed to finance an intensive anti-cancer campaign in the state.

During 1944, the first full year of clinic operation, 439 cancer victims received treatment under the new program. In 1945, the number jumped to 577. The following year, the clinics treated 970, however, the all time high so far came last year when the clinics rendered treatment to 1,320 cancer-stricken Alabamians. Dr. Gill pointed out that the number of patients last year climbed to three times the number receiving treatment in 1944. He added that all treatment is entirely free to the state's indigent and medically indigent cancer victims and urged anyone suspecting that they have cancer to have a check-up so that the growth can be caught and combated in its early stages.

Kinston - Orphaned Community

Within ten miles of Elba there are people who can mail two air mail letters at the same time, one to Elba and one to New York, at the same time, and the chances are they will get a reply from New York first. These people live on a Kinston route and though only a short distance from their county seat, they are closer by mail to the county seats of at least a thousand other counties.

People living in Kinston are closer by paved roads to two other county seats than they are to their own. They can do their shopping in towns closer by but every person has a certain amount of business that must be conducted in his county seat, and he has a right to expect to conduct it with less effort than Kinstonians have to exert.

These people are good Coffee County citizens; they pay taxes and assume responsibilities as do the rest of us but they are denied many of our advantages.

The road to Kinston is to be paved at an early date if the money shortage in the State Highway Dept. can be remedied. This will help matters but it still won't be sufficient. Last year an attempt was made to establish a star route from Elba to Ory to connect with the star route from Georgiana to Kinston. This route would have given round trip service daily to that end of the county. It also would have cut some 24 hours off the time required for mail going from Elba to points west. But this route fell through. This project will probably be brought up again soon. If we all squawk loud enough maybe we can be heard all the way to Washington and get it passed this time.

A Year Gone By

Just one year ago this week we concluded a transaction with Mr. R. C. Bryan and began publishing the Elba Clipper. The paper was a four-page edition at that time and the shop equipment was in poor condition. Though we had never published a paper before, we were determined to put out a paper Coffee County could be proud of and to modernize the plant so Elba business could depend entirely upon it for their printing needs.

Our first year of operation has seen these goals only partly attained. We increased the size of the paper and made several changes we thought essential. We moved into a modern new building and added new equipment and type as fast as we could obtain it.

We are proud of our new plant. Though it is still small it is the most modern and well-equipped shop we know of in a town of the size of Elba. We are now capable of producing large quantities of job work in a short while, thus offering better service to our customers. First addition in the printing department was a mono-tabular—a machine used in making up forms with lines both horizontal and vertical. This machine eliminates the old necessity of running jobs through the press twice. Our largest addition in this department was a 12 in. by 18 in. automatic job press, making it possible to print larger sheets and eliminating the necessity for paper feeding at job printing. The addition of about twenty new styles of type has permitted us to improve the appearance of work produced. Other equipment has placed us in position to produce printed matter that compares very favorably with our competitors in neighboring towns.

The Clipper itself is about double its former size. A special effort has been made to get as much local news as possible. Our two fine correspondents, Mrs. Kendrick and Mr. McDowell, have done excellent jobs in this field. In the last few issues we have included New Brockton news by Mrs. Geo. Hogg. We plan to expand this program and take in all communities in Elba trade territory.

Our subscription list has grown by 350 families. Duties at the office have prevented our soliciting subscriptions; all that came in have been done so voluntarily. We hope to increase our list to 2,000 this fall.

We are endeavoring to publish a paper that will be beneficial to all people in this territory. The only way this can be done is for all people to realize the paper is put out for their benefit and cooperate by reporting items of interest in their communities. Heretofore we have had to omit several articles sent in. This was caused by lack of space and mechanical difficulties most of which are being overcome.

We urge people to take a more active interest in the paper. Visitors are always welcome in the shop. If you have any desire to see a paper printed, come by on Thursday afternoon and see it done. Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays we are usually busy to devote much time to visitors but later in the week we are glad to have you look around and ask all the questions you want to.

It has been a pleasure to send you the Elba Clipper this past year. We hope to make as much or more progress this year than we have in the year past.

Whether your plans call for a new home or remodeling of your old home, our building supplies will fit your needs.

DEEP SEA WATER

Deep sea water pressures condense the volume of the water so much that if all sea water were to expand to its normal volume the ocean surface would be 90 to 100 feet higher than it is.

matically electing Mrs. Patterson. Adams, 25-year-old student at the Alabama University is to graduate in December, said he was staying in the run-off with Boswell. Adams said he was opposed to walking out of the convention if it adopts a civil rights platform or nominates President Truman. "There are many other issues which are more important to the whole country than civil rights," he said. As for President Truman, Adams said he is opposed to his nomination but believes "others may be found, maybe".

Boswell has taken an opposite stand. He has strongly advocated that Alabama's delegates walk out of the convention if it adopts the civil rights program and nominates President Truman. He contended that there would be no point in Southern delegates remaining in the convention after the National party has committed itself to civil rights legislation.

Of the seven candidates for the four delegate-at-large posts, four are committed to a walk-out if one is necessary to protest adoption of the civil rights program. They are: McCorvey, B. M. Bonner, Riddle and Stapp. The other three, all opposed to a walk-out, are Carmichael, Folsom and Money.

Of the four delegates-at-large elected in the May 4 primary, two are committed to a walk-out and two are opposed. In favor of a walk-out are Ellis and Connor, while opposed are Hill and Sparks.

The Third District delegate already elected, Farmer has announced that he is in favor of a walk-out.

Both alternate delegates from the Third District, Wallace and Patterson, have announced that they would not walk out.
